O Lord, who may abide it? For there is mercy with thee:
 therefore shalt thou be fear'd. I look for the Lord:
 my soul doth wait for him, and in his word is my trust.
 My soul fleeth unto the Lord before the morning watch,
 I say, before the morning watch.
 O Israel, trust in the Lord,
 with the Lord there is mercy,
 and with him is plenteous redemption.
 And he shall redeem Israel from all its sins.

ANTHEM

“The Lord is My Shepherd” from Requiem

John Rutter

The Lord is my shepherd; therefore can I lack nothing. He shall feed me in a green pasture, and lead me forth beside the waters of comfort. He shall convert my soul, and bring me forth in the paths of righteousness, for his Name’s sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; For thou art with me: Thy rod and thy staff comfort me. Thou shalt prepare a table before me against them that trouble me: thou hast anointed my head with oil and my cup shall be full. But thy loving-kindness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

THE SACRAMENT OF THE LORD’S SUPPER

INVITATION

THE GREAT THANKSGIVING AND NECROLOGY

One: The Lord be with you.

All: And also with you.

One: Lift up your hearts.

All: We lift them to the Lord.

One: Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.

All: It is right to give our thanks and praise...

SANCTUS from Requiem

John Rutter

Holy, holy, holy Lord, God of power and might,

Heaven and earth are full of Your glory.

Hosanna in the highest.

Blessed, blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord.

Hosanna in the highest.

THE LORD'S PRAYER

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name, thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

COMMUNION OF THE PEOPLE

As the bread and cup are distributed, you may partake individually in personal prayer. Gluten- and casein-free bread is available in the small container located on each plate.

AGNUS DEI from Requiem

John Rutter

Lamb of God, who takes away the sins of the world, grant them rest.
Man that is born of a woman hath but a short time to live,
and is full of misery.
He cometh up, and is cut down like a flower;
he fleeth as it were a shadow.
Lamb of God, who takes away the sins of the world, grant them rest.
In the midst of life, we are in death.
Of whom may we seek for succor?
Lamb of God, who takes away the sins of the world, grant them rest.
I am the resurrection and the life, saith the Lord:
He that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live:
and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die.

POST COMMUNION PRAYER

Agnes W. Norfleet

CHORAL BLESSING

“Lux Aeterna” from Requiem

John Rutter

I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me.
Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord,
for they rest from their labours.
Even so saith the Spirit, for they rest.
Let eternal light shine upon them, O Lord
with Thy saints in eternity, for Thou art merciful.
Grant them eternal rest, O Lord,
and may light perpetual shine on them.

*The congregation is encouraged to refrain from applauding.
Please depart in silence.*

Rutter’s “Requiem”

From the composer’s notes on a recording of Requiem by King’s College Choir:
Requiem was written in 1985. Unlike most of my work up to that point, it was not commissioned: a personal bereavement was the immediate reason for writing it. Its precedents were the small-scale, intimate *Requiem*s of Fauré and Duruflé rather than the great dramatic frescoes of Berlioz and Verdi; and, as with many *Requiem*s since about 1850, the music is not a complete setting of the Missa pro defunctis as laid down in Catholic liturgy but instead a meditation on themes of life and death using a personal compilation of texts. Like Fauré, I selected portions of the Requiem Mass, and like Britten I wove other English texts into them to form a counterpoint to the Latin. The English texts consist of two psalms used at funerals (Psalms 130 and 23) together with some of the Burial Sentences from the 1662 Book of Common Prayer. The result is a concert work rather than a liturgical Requiem, though it has sometimes been used liturgically; in a more general sense, it feels at home, I hope, in church. The seven-movement structure is arch-like. The first and last movements are prayers to God the Father (with texts according to the Missa pro defunctis); movements 2 and 6 are psalm settings, both with instrumental obligatos; movements 3 and 5 are personal prayers to Christ; and the central Sanctus, the keystone of the arch, is celebratory and affirmative, using bells as is traditional at this point in a mass. Gregorian chant (a thread running through much of my work) is found at a number of points in Requiem, most overtly in the Agnus Dei, where fragments of the Easter Sequence, Victimae paschali laudes, are played on the flute before and during the words “I am the resurrection and the life.” In the final Lux aeterna, the opening few notes to the theme first sung by the sopranos are taken from the chant associated with that text.
