One: What is your will for our lives and for our world?

and reveal your will to us.

CALL TO CONFESSION

Grant and Jack Stevens

PRAYER OF CONFESSION (in unison)

Almighty God, you unite all peoples;
far and near, old and young, poor and rich, privileged and oppressed.
You love and protect all.

Forgive us when we do not follow you because we have forgotten that when the ground shakes,
you are present in mansions and huts alike.

Forgive us when we do not follow you because we have forgotten your promise to be a dam amidst rising waters.

Forgive us when we do not follow you because we have closed our eyes to your will for our lives.

Break open our hearts to the world around us;
free us from fear, that we might follow you into the future you have promised.

A moment of silence for personal reflection and confession.

ASSURANCE OF PARDON

BULLETIN COVER

This week's cover art is a "word cloud" which includes the words used to describe our Youth Ministry and its goals in various listening sessions and strategic planning meetings over the past six months. Some of the most prominent words make up our new mission statement: "The Youth Ministry of Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church is an inclusive faith community that connects, engages and equips youth to discover and live out the gospel of Jesus Christ."

BMPC's Youth Ministry embodies the Gospel of Jesus Christ through the acronym: I Dream

Inclusion
Discipleship Responsibility
Engagement
Affirmation
Mission

SERMON NOTE

The sermons in today's service focus on scripture passages that carry special meaning in the lives of our youth preachers. Each preacher draws upon an overarching theme of the text to build a biblical foundation for the six core values that will guide the Youth Ministry into the next phase of our life together.
